LIBRARY

REPORT OF ANDREW KEOGH, Librarian.

To the President and Fellows of Yale University:

GENTLEMEN:

I HAVE the honor to report on the work of the University Library during the academic year 1926-27.

THE GROWTH OF THE LIBRARY

THE number of volumes added to the General Library during the year was 41,573, about four thousand more than last year. The purchases numbered 16,165 volumes, the gifts 19,165, and the exchanges 6,243. There were also 5,452 pamphlets received by gift, 718 by exchange, and 17 by purchase. The number of volumes added to the School and Departmental libraries is shown in the table on page 22.

GIFTS

The gifts to income amounted to $8,673 and are listed on page 152 of the Report of the Treasurer for 1926-1927. Several donors gave anonymously and have been thanked by letter from the Library or from the Treasurer's Office. Among the larger gifts were $1,000 from Mr. Russell C. Leffingwell, B.A. 1899, for special purposes, and $2,000 from Mr. Leonard C. Hanna, Jr., of the Class of 1913, for the purchase of books in art. The gifts from Mr. Leffingwell and Mr. Hanna were in continuation of gifts for the same purposes reported in earlier years. Dr. James H. Penniman, B.A. 1884, gave $647 to defray the cost of books and periodicals for the Penniman Memorial Library of Education.

Two bequests were received during the year, one of $5,000 from Mr. Robert Jaffray, Ph.B. 1873, and one of $7,727 from Mr. Henry C. White, B.A. 1881, who died in 1914. Professor Theodore S. Woolsey added $5,000 to the fund he established in 1924; Mr. Frank Altschul, B.A. 1908, added $29,018 to his fund; and Mr. Starling W. Childs, B.A. 1891, added $20,000 to his fund in memory of his father.

Nine new endowments were created during the year. Mrs. Franklin Bowditch Dexter gave $1,000 in memory of Mr.

Dexter, the income to be used for the purchase of books in American history and related subjects. Professor Warren Austin Adams of Dartmouth gave $1,000 in memory of his son, Henry Adams, who graduated in 1925, for books in modern European history. Mr. John Wallace Hallowell gave $1,000 in memory of his son, John Wallace Hallowell, Jr., of the Class of 1915, the income to be used for the purchase of books. Dr. Ellsworth Eliot, B.A. 1884, gave $2,500 for bibliographical research, and promised to add to the fund from time to time. Members of the family of Henry Belin, B.A. 1863, gave $5,000 in his memory, the income to be used for general purposes of the Library. Mr. Arthur L. Goodhart, B.A. 1912, and Mr. Howard L. Goodhart, B.A. 1905, gave $6,000 to establish the Marjorie Walter Goodhart Fund, the income to be used for the purchase and care of books, periodicals, pamphlets, and reports in the field of medical science, including psychiatry and public health. Mr. Henry Rogers Winthrop, B.A. 1898, gave $10,000, in memory of his father, Buchanan Winthrop, of the Class of 1862. Mrs. Brooks-Aten, of New York, started a book fund, which will eventually amount to $25,000, in memory of her ancestors David Brooks, B.A. 1768, and his son Micah Brooks, for the promotion of Anglo-American understanding. Mrs. John Bradley Lord, who died in 1926, had planned to establish a fund in memory of her son, Albert DeSilver, B.A. 1910. Her wishes have since been carried out by Mrs. Albert DeSilver and by Mr. Lord and his son, who have given $100,000, the income to be used for the purchase and care of books in chemistry.

Among the manuscripts received were a letter press copy-book of the Analytical Laboratory, Yale College, from 1848 to 1852, and a number of letters, documents, and diplomas connected with Professor Thomas B. Osborne, B.A. 1817, and Isaac H. Osborn, B.A. 1807, the gift of Mrs. Thomas B. Osborne; the papers of Walter Camp, B.A. 1880, relating to the history of athletics, and particularly athletics at Yale; the Diary of Elisha Mulford, B.A. 1855, while a student in North Middle, Yale College, 1852-53, from his son, Mr. R. J. Mulford, of Princeton; 154 folio photostats of the records of Indian conferences held in 1757-1765, from E. Francis Riggs, B.A. 1909, and T. Lawrason Riggs, B.A. 1910; letters of Washington Irving from a group of five graduates; a number of letters from Sir Walter Scott to John W. Croker, given by Mr. Otto T. Bannard, B.A. 1876, and other letters and manuscripts of Scott given by Mrs. Carl Stoeckel; over three hundred letters to and from Colonel John Trumbull, from Colonel Ralph H. Isham; Log books of forty-eight British men-of-war, ranging from 1807 to 1840, from Robert Wilden Neeser, B.A. 1906; papers of Nathaniel and Thomas Shaw, from Miss Jane R. Perkins; and the original draft of Bayard Taylor's translation of Faust, from Mrs. Edward S. Harkness.

Among the important books received as gifts were the handsomely illustrated description of the collection of old bronzes made by the late Baron Sumitomo, the gift of the present Baron; a copy of Livy's Decades, printed by Pincius in Venice in 1495, from Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehrr; a collection of periodicals of the French Revolution, comprising about sixty titles and numbering 175 volumes, from Mr. Frank Altschul, B.A. 1908; 167 volumes of its publications from the Hispanic Society; over 1,500 pieces of the writings of the late Professor Dexter and other Yale Memorabilia, from Mrs. Franklin Bowditch Dexter; several hundred volumes of miscellaneous literature from the library of Nathaniel T. Bacon, the gift of his children, Leonard Bacon, B.A. 1909, and Mrs. Elmer D. Keith; 700 volumes on naval history from Robert W. Neeser, B.A. 1906; and over 700 volumes from Mr. George L. Fox, B.A. 1874.

The Misses Brandegee gave a portrait of James Gates Percival, of the Class of 1815, and Professor Archibald Henderson gave a painting of George Bernard Shaw. To the Speck Collection Mr. Gabriel Wells gave a bronze bust of Goethe in 1821 by Christian Rauch, and Mr. Richard Bloch gave a copy of Kügelchen's iron medallion of Goethe in 1808.

Mr. William H. Owen, B.A. 1897, gave his collection of coins, numbering about 10,000 pieces. The coins are medieval and modern, and therefore do not duplicate to any large extent the collections already at Yale, and they are as remarkable for their condition as for their number and rarity.

It will be seen that many of the gifts named above in so cursory a fashion are of great importance and interest. It has been possible to describe some of them more fully in the Yale University Library Gazette, and notices of others will appear in later issues of that publication.

EXCHANGES

More than 6,000 books and pamphlets were sent out in exchange during the year, chiefly to institutions abroad. Half of these were Yale dissertations and reprints, the remainder consisting chiefly of the Transactions of the Connecticut Academy, the Transactions of the Yale Observatory, and the Silliman Lectures. During the spring the Yale University Press gave to the Library, for distribution abroad, nearly two thousand volumes of its publications. There were also gifts for exchange purposes from Miss Annie B. Jennings and Dr. Ludlow S. Bull, B.A. 1907. Miss Jennings gave two hundred copies of Old Houses of Connecticut, and Dr. Bull fifty copies of each of six works by the late Professor Clay.

THE CLASSIFICATION AND CATALOGUING OF THE BOOKS

THE progress of the cataloguing has suffered because we have had to continue the policy of replacing experienced assistants by those untrained or inexperienced. We are not yet able to pay the salaries now asked and obtained by candidates who combine a sound education with a practical knowledge of the methods of classification and cataloguing in university or large special libraries. We have therefore added to our clerical force, and at the cost of training and constant supervision have been able to do many things that needed to be done. Perhaps the most generally interesting was the clipping, mounting, and filing of the titles of books added to the British Museum during recent years. The sections Academies and Periodical Publications have been completed from 1900 to June, 1926, and have been of much service in bibliographical investigation, not only to the library staff, but to the faculty and students.

An allied piece of work, but vastly more extensive and useful, was the completion of the final checking for the Union List of Serials, a labor which has taken much time, both skilled and clerical, during the last three years. The list is being compiled by the coöperation of most of the larger libraries of the country, and Yale naturally took her place as an organizer and collaborator.

The list gives us for the first time a complete and up-to-date record of the periodicals taken in all the libraries of Yale, and this information will be printed in an accurate and convenient form. This alone would have justified the large expenditure of time and money, but the list has a wider importance, for it tells scholars everywhere what a rich storehouse the Yale Library is, and tells a research worker at Yale whether a serial he needs is available in this country and where it may be found.

Much time has been spent in conference with the librarians of the departmental libraries as to the arrangement, cataloguing, and use of the material in their charge. The full coördination of these libraries with the central library and with each other must wait until the Sterling Memorial Library is available and until the cost of administering these libraries is fully considered and met, but much can be done in the meantime. It gives me pleasure to report to the Corporation that we have the hearty coöperation not only of the departmental librarians, but of the Deans of Schools and the chairmen of departments.

The printing of the catalogue of the library of the American Oriental Society has had to be postponed because the Society's free funds are not at present sufficient to pay the printer's bill. It is hoped that some individual interested in Oriental studies will make publication possible within a short time. Current additions to the Society's library are catalogued as they come, so that there will be no delay so far as the Yale Library is concerned.

THE USE MADE OF THE LIBRARY

OUR statistics show an increase in the number of members of the University borrowing books for home reading and a large increase in the number of books borrowed, and this is true both of Linonia and of the general Library. In the general Library the growth is marked, the figures showing that 312 academic Seniors (i.e., 45 per cent of the Class) took books out of the building. No record is kept of books used in the building, with the exception of the "reserved shelves," where more than 61,000 volumes were consulted. This last figure does not include the summer school use of over 20,000 volumes.

It is difficult to handle this increased circulation in the present crowded quarters, with books housed in three library buildings and four nearby buildings. The Sterling Memorial Library will, of course, solve our difficulties, and if a portion of the new library can be made available by the autumn of 1928 a great boon will be conferred upon readers and library staff alike.

EXHIBITIONS

ON Alumni Day recent gifts of rare and interesting books and manuscripts were shown, and at Commencement there was an exhibition illustrating the Yale of 1727, 1827, and 1927. In June there was also the usual gathering of the writings of the Classes holding twenty-fifth and fiftieth reunions. In connection with undergraduate work in English a Milton exhibition was held, and also a Byron exhibition, prepared by Professor Willard. There was also an exhibition of rare books and manuscripts owned by undergraduates; the exhibits were of remarkable value and interest, and attracted more than a thousand visitors.

On the Sunday afternoon of Commencement week the coins given by Mr. Owen were placed on view in the Linonian Library, carefully arranged by place and date, with the donor in attendance as guide. The exhibition will be repeated during the coming academic year for the undergraduates.

ADMINISTRATION

THE ALUMNI COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY

THE Committee lost by death Mr. Robert Hartshorne, who was a constant donor and greatly interested in the development of the Library. As his successor the Alumni Advisory Board appointed Mr. Stuart W. Jackson, B.A. 1898. The Committee held one meeting during the year, and most of the members visited the Library so as to keep in touch with our work.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The term of office of Professors Corbin and Tinker expired on June 30, 1927, and they were succeeded by Professors Seymour and Young. As Professor Young will be on leave of absence during 1927-28, the Committee requested the Corporation to reappoint Professor Tinker for the coming academic year, and this was done. The Librarian is grateful to the members of the Committee for the time and thought they give to the problems of the Library.

THE STAFF

Mrs. Dorothy C. Cramton and Mrs. Mary B. Edgerly resigned from the staff during the year, to leave the city. There were added to the staff Miss Jennie V. France, B.A., Miss J. Doris Dart, B.A., Miss L. Kathleen Dolan, M.A., Miss Rigmor J. Andréasen, Miss Gertrude Moeller, and Miss Mary P. Wheeler, B.A.

Lectures to the staff were given by Professor Dutcher, who spoke on his forthcoming Bibliography of History, by Mr. William Fowler Hopson and by Mr. Carl A. Lohmann on Graphic Processes, and by Mr. Carl P. Rollins on the History of Printing.

PUBLICATIONS

IN July, 1926, appeared the first number of the Yale University Library Gazette, a quarterly bulletin of news about the Library. The Gazette will record the coming of important books, manuscripts, prints, maps, coins, and other accessions to the Library; will describe the various collections in the Library; will note changes in the personnel of the library committees and the library staff; will serve as a medium for the public acknowledgment of some of the more important gifts; will give the more interesting details of the erection and use of the Sterling Memorial Library; and, in a word, will keep Yale's Library before the alumni and the world.

Mr. Frank Altschul generously subsidized the first number so that it might be brought to the attention of graduates and other friends of the Library. The publication has proved its usefulness and will be continued.

A booklet entitled Yale and her Books was published during the year as part of the campaign for a greater university endowment and sent to every graduate. It had pictures of all the buildings used to house the library, beginning with the home of the Reverend Samuel Russel of Branford, and ending with the Sterling Memorial Library. It was artistically printed by the Yale University Press and cannot fail to produce the desired result.

The Library also published a work edited by Mr. Speck entitled Reproductions in Facsimile of Two Supposedly Lost Drawings by Goethe with Comments on their assumed Relationship to Goethe's Suppressed Satire "Das Unglück der Jacobis."

STERLING MEMORIAL LIBRARY

ON Alumni Day the President exhibited the front elevation of new drawings of the Library, with a stack less like a tower because its height had been reduced and its typical floor increased about half as much again. With this more compact stack hundreds of thousands of books will be nearer the desk and the reading rooms, the journey of elevators and book carriers will be shorter, and the number of floor attendants smaller. Mr. Rogers thinks, too, that the final plan is more fitting for a library in its architectural expression, and at the same time one of greater dignity and beauty.

It is hoped that work on the foundations will be started on a large scale in October or November.

ANDREW KEOGH

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN OF THE SCHOOL OF LAW

I HAVE the honor to present herewith my annual report as Librarian of the School of Law and Curator of the Wheeler Collection for the year 1926-27.

CATALOGUING AND CLASSIFICATION

IN addition to the cataloguing of current accessions, some work has been done on the old material not yet catalogued. Some time was spent in revising and expanding the subject catalogue, which, with the enlargement of the scope of our collections, has required continual changes and additions. Since the introduction of the Honors Courses, the use of the catalogue by the students is increasing. Owing to overcrowding in the main reading room, a number of volumes were transferred to the stacks during the year. Lack of available space continues to be one of our pressing problems.

ACCESSIONS

THE current subscriptions and the binding constitute an ever increasing drain upon our appropriation, so that the purchase of new material is necessarily restricted. Some progress was made in filling the English and American sets, and complete files of several of the important European and South American periodicals were secured.

An arrangement has been made by which the Library will receive the Records and Briefs of the United States Supreme Court. The Library is indebted to the Honorable Helio Lobo, formerly Brazilian Consul General in New York and now Brazilian Minister to Uruguay, for a gift of valuable Brazilian material. Mr. Charles F. Clemons, of Honolulu, presented a complete file of the Yale Law Journal.

Complete sets of Missouri and Utah reports, purchased from funds collected by the Yale Law School Association, were added to our collection of duplicate state reports. Sixty-six volumes of Texas reports were presented, through the Texas Yale Association, by Aubrey Alexander and Zeno C. Ross, as a memorial to Thomas D. Ross, LL.M. 1883. Funds for completing the set are being collected by the Texas Association. Mr. Harold Depew has paid for the continuations of the set of New Jersey reports and Mr. John A. Hooper for those of Pennsylvania.

The late Governor Baldwin, Connecticut's eminent citizen, gave further evidence of his life-long association with the Yale School of Law and of his deep interest in its welfare, by making the Law School the residuary legatee of half his estate. It is probable that a part of this fund will be used for the needs of the Law Library, in which Governor Baldwin always displayed a special interest.

BINDING

IN addition to the binding of current periodicals and unbound treatises, a systematic rebinding of the sheepbound sets of state reports has been carried on during the year. It is planned to continue this process during the coming year, with a view to getting all books into good condition for moving into the new building. Much work is needed among our early statutes and treatises.

MISCELLANEOUS

IN September the main reading room was repainted and a new lighting system installed. This has added greatly to the convenience of the readers. Several new stacks were added in the second floor reading room. There has been a noticeable increase in the use of library facilities by the students. The Summer Session of the School, which keeps the Library in constant use the year around, has added appreciably to the work of the staff and to the wear and tear on the books.

Miss Elizabeth Davidson has resigned from the staff, effective July 1, 1927. Mrs. Marion S. Pottle, who has served us efficiently in past years, will rejoin the staff on September 1, 1927.

STATISTICS

DURING the year there have been added to the Library 4,321 volumes, of which 1,446 were gifts. The growth of the Library during the last ten years is indicated by the following table:

		Wheeler Collection	Entire Law Library
1917-18	5,516	45,845
1918-19	5,898	50,357
1919-20	6,168	60,522
1920-21	6,676	65,059
1921-22	7,371	67,902
1922-23	8,013	72,202
1923-24	8,788	76,901
1924-25	8,996	83,300
1925-26	9,292	87,605
1926-27	9,607	91,926

The new accessions, with their respective expenditures, may be divided as follows: from the General, English, and 1896 funds, 2,560 volumes at a cost of $8,946.42; from the Wheeler Fund, 315 volumes at a cost of $1,209.81; subscriptions to periodicals, $1,864.64; binding, $3,951.00; office equipment, supplies, etc., $1,226.00; making a total expenditure for the year of $17,197.87.
